

.In our humble opinion cocktails are much more than just drinks, they represent over 200 years of history in a glass serving as a time-honored testament to bygone eras such as the days of prohibition and repeal between 1920 and 1933. But what exactly is a cocktail, think about it? Almost everyone knows the word but what exactly is it? Well, the first ever definition of the world was seen in a political trade journal published on May 13th, 1806 entitled "The Balance and Columbian Repository", stating:

"Cocktail, then is a stimulating Liquor, composed of spirits of any kind, sugar, water and bitters"

PRE-PROHIBITION COCKTAIL'S

Old Fashioned 14

The Old fashioned dates back to the mid 19th century. The first use of the name and recipe was in private members club in Louisville, Kentucky. Colonel James pepper brought the drink to the bar of Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York from where its fame was secure (The Waldorf Astoria Bar book 1935)

Jim Beam, Orange extract, Hoppe, Angostura, Demerara, Gomme

White Lady 16

Iconic American bartender Harry Craddock created this drink in 1930 at the American Bar. During the prohibition time it was common place for US barman to travel overseas to practice there trade, with Craddock being perhaps the most noted. Our recipe honors him by keeping to his original measures.

Martin Millers, Cointreau, Lemon, Gomme

Bronx (Original) 14

Johnnie Solon - bartender at the Old Waldorf - having been challenged by the Head waiter, who ridiculed his inability to create a cocktail, answered back with the now internationally known 'Bronx'.

As per its original recipe: 2/3 Gin (we are using Bombay Sapphire), 1/3 Orange Juice and dashes of both French & Italian Vermouth

1915 14

Named in honor of a New Year.

Some believe this was the last cocktail invented in the Old Waldorf Bar.

1/3 Gordon's dry gin, 1/3 Blue Curaçao, 1/3 Cream

Negroni 14

Count Camillo Negroni supposedly invented it in 1919 by asking the bartender to strengthen his favorite cocktail; the Americano.

Equal parts of Tanqueray gin, Martini Rosso & Campari for one highly stimulating aperitif cocktail

L'Orange Classic 26

The classic champagne cocktail, which was first seen in Jerry Thomas' 1862 book, "How to mix drinks or The Bon-Vivant's Companion".

Grand Marnier, Demerara, Hoppe, Champagne, Orange Zest

Mint Julep 18

Rooted in the southern states of America, the Julep was a drink that amongst other things marked the status of the plantation owners during the slave trade years, traditionally being served at social gatherings in the hot summer months.

Traditional Style: Cognac, Peach, Mint, Sugar

Georgia Dixie Style: Bourbon, Mint, Sugar
